

Mission Statement

The Chittenango Central Schools Special Education Parent Teacher Student Association (CCS SEPTSA) strives to provide education, training and support for parents and educators to become more effective advocates for all individuals in our community. Through meetings, workshops and speakers we will address a broad range of learning styles, health issues and disabilities. CCS SEPTSA will bring parents and educators together to provide a forum where the latest insights and strategies can be applied in the classroom and reinforced at home. This will help our children to reach their fullest potential. Our goal is to promote community awareness, in order to build acceptance, understanding and a support system for these families. With SEPTSA, every child has a voice, and that voice is heard without prejudice. CCS SEPTSA will bridge the gap between regular and special education, putting to rest any myths about Special Education, the students or their families, in order to become one united community with one voice for all children.

Building partnerships for all kids!
